

THE GATEKEEPER

Spring Issue

Quarterly Newsletter of the Barony of Winter's Gate, Northern Alaska.

Spring, Anno Societatus LVI
(2022 Gregorian)

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

The Barony of Winter's Gate is coming out of the haze of the Plague Years ... and we plan to CELEBRATE !!

Join us on Saturday 16 April 2022, at the Masonic Hall in Fairbanks Alaska, for a day of celebration, as we highlight the love, dedication and sacrifices that our Baron, Hans Shaffer, and Baroness, Elena verch Rhys, have given to us over the past 5 years. Yes, 5 years of blissful reign!

In these 5 years we, as a barony have watched their beloved Calliope grow from the tender age of just two years old when they stepped into the reign of the Barony, and in the last two years we have braved the plague together. We have also had the first ever Winter's Gate War Party on the fields of West/An Tir! We may have broken the known worlde, cause it all shut down after that!! Ha ha ha!

Haazzaah ! Haazzaah !

Lift your voices and your hearts to welcome in the new Baron, Khevron Oktavii Tikhovich Vorotnikov, and Baroness, Merewyn of Ynys Taltraeth ! They have been strong and active members in our barony for many seasons, now we are excited for our barony as they step up to the helm! For Baron Khevron it will be his second time in this seat, both Khevron and Merewyn have held multiple officer positions continuously. The Barony of Winter's Gate is honored to anticipate the attendance of Their Majesties Miles and Jitka, King & Queen of the West, and their Highnesses Cruscillus and Vicana, Prince & Princess of Oertha, for this momentous celebration.

Participate in the WHIMS!! Show your heraldry at your table setting. Show your heraldry on your person. Show the Winter's Gate Heraldry in your arts, table decorations or personal accessories !

House Tundra Weasel will be serving libations for the evening! Frivolous activities of the day will include table top games, a Scavenger Hunt for the young and young at heart, music, wondrous food, and an amazing COURT!

Fighters! Both heavy and rapier fighters please bring your gear and prepare to expend yourselves!

NEW people to the SCA! Come join us for all or part of our day!! Feel free to celebrate with us. You will not be asked to pay a site fee, although, we will ask you to sign in at the Registration table and sign a waiver.

Words of the Baron and Baroness

Greeting to all whose eyes fall upon these words. We have come at last to our last hours as Baroness and Baron of this our Winters Gate. It has been a long trek with both emotional ups and downs through our snowy lands. We have felt the excitement and the expansion into Bjarnarstrond and sadness when it has gone silent during the last few years.

As we end our stewardship of this expanse we call home, we hope we leave with fond memories you can look back on for years to come. We ourselves have fond memories of our times with all of you and even after we leave will look forward to many more serving alongside you in service to our new Baron and Baroness, our barony, and our shared dream.

My fondest memories from the Frivolity of Fool's Revel to leading a war party down south under the Winters Gate banner. With the night of the pandemic ending we can think of no better time for the dawning of a new direction for our barony. Long Live the incipient Baron and Baroness of Winter's Gate.

--Hans and Elena

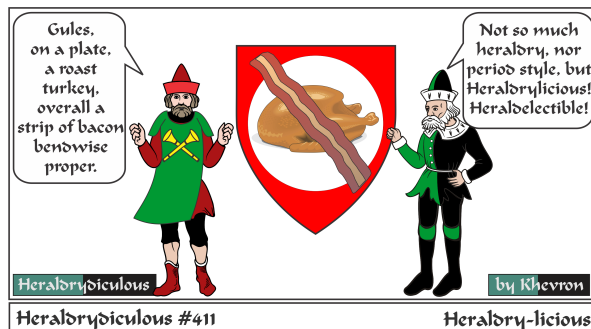

Stepping up as Baron and Baroness:

Khevron Oktavii Gikhikovich Vorotnikov &
Merewyn of Unys Galtraeth.

We are thrilled at becoming your next Baron and Baroness at Changeover event next month! We're looking forward to in-person events becoming fully restored and want to make it FUN for people to attend. Humor is the word! (and not one of the '4 humors' those are yucky!)

We hope we serve the Barony well these next 2-4 years. Come to us and chat! We want--nay--need to get to know everyone more closely than, perhaps, we have before.

YULE recap (December 18 - Cempestrae)

Our Yule Family Gathering was amazing although we missed Their Excellencies. Thanks to all those who made the Event possible!

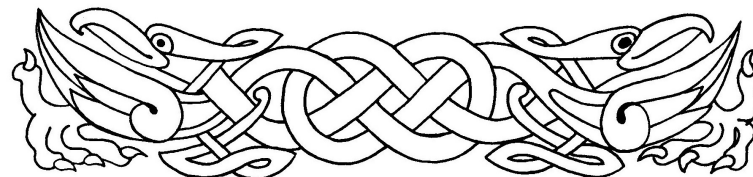

Thanks to Their Highnesses for braving the winds if the North and riding an Ice Dragon to join us! Thank you to the Baron and Baroness of Eskalya and for our Visiting Royalty from Astral Winds for joining us for our celebration! Our glittering hall, soft snowflakes suspended in air and decorations set the cheery mood, thanks to Aurelia and Katla. Thanks to our Treasures of Hot Cocoa for a delicious chocolaty warmth!

Our Allergen Feast-o-crat, Ellisif did great job making sure that those with special diets could feast. Many thanks to Fionnghuala for her amazing tasty home cooked meal. To all the kitchen staff, Gisla, Iriniia, Aurelia, Katla, thank you! Special thanks to House Tundra Weasel for providing us with their Tavern Specials, amazing drinks and welcoming hospitality.

Thank you to everyone for working together to maintain safety and masking. But, most importantly, thank you to the Populace! Seeing old friends, making new friends, and being able to join as a Winters Gate Family was the greatest holiday gift. May your season be bright and as warm as a welcome from Winters Gate!

Live long and Prosper in the Dream, Cempestrae

Over 35 Adults and children through gate! Fighting happened - Prince of Oertha Crusilius, Baron of Eskalya Gavin, and Floki.

WINTERSGATE COLLEGIUM

A collegium event you will NOT want to miss !

Join the Barony of Winter's Gate for our Collegium the weekend of May 14-15. This event will be full of level 2 and level 3 classes. All of the populace is welcome and encouraged to join in the classes that pique their passions no matter the experience level of the students.

The class list may include:

- Autocrating an event
- Feastocrating an event,
- Cooking a feast – this class will start before the weekend on Zoom.
- Fighting strategies,
- and more!

Make your plans and reservations now for these “Master Class” level teachers!

This event may be held at the Library in North Pole, AK and the location may change, or there might be different locations for different classes.

Watch the announcements in the Barony of Winter's Gate Facebook page, as details are finalized all the information will be listed there!

Are you up for teaching a “Master Class” level class to your fellow SCAdians? Contact the Autocrat, Baroness Talorc, mka - India Brinkerhoff (India.Brink@gmail.com) or through FB “India Brink”

FIGHTER PRACTICES ARE ON AGAIN!

North Pole Library
Multi-Purpose Room
Noon to 4:30 pm

OYEZ!!! OYEZ!!!

Things are heating up! We have had at least 5 heavy fighters and several people are interested in rapier fighting. Fighter practice started again Saturday March 12 at the North Pole Library rules require us to be completely out of the rooms 15 minutes before the library closes at 5 pm. Food and drinks are allowed in to the room.

Can't swing a sword? We also have medieval crafts. Check it out!. Most Saturdays Noon to 4:30 pm. Check the Event page on the Wintersgate Facebook group or email khevron@warppmail.net to double-check if there's a practice.

We have this location for a limited time, and then we should be outdoors when the weather permits. We are open to suggestions alternative sites or preferences.

Check the groups.io mailing list for announcements for Fighter Practice Locations and time. What--not on our mailing list? Shame! Instructions for joining are below.

CALL TO BATTLE! We are looking for new fighters with no experience and lots of enthusiasm. Put on some armor and give it a try! We have loaner armor and weapons. Don't know how? We'll teach you. You may just get hooked; and you'll get a workout. Or bring a craft! You don't have to be a member. Everyone is welcome. Come have fun with us--you've earned it!

JOIN THE NEW E-MAIL LIST FOR WINTER'S GATE!!

Please join our new e-mail list on groups.io. This is not Facebook!

For Local (Northern Alaska) SCA interested folk only, active, semi-active or lurking, all welcome. Don't have to be a member.

FROM THE CHRONICLER'S PEN:

Greetings Winter's Gateans:

After a long hiatus of meetings, the Barony is coming alive again! And now the Gatekeeper wants to turn over a new leaf by becoming something bigger than it has been. We hope to include more event reports, art, and even articles in our quarterly issues. And we will be mailing out paper copies, as well as passing them out at events. We hope that if you have an idea for an article or some art, you will send it to:

Merewyn lareena@warppmail.net.
Next issue will be in May/June.

COMICON 2022!

COMICON 2022!

Fairbanks Comicon was a great success and lots of fun! Floki, Gisla, Margery, Cemper and Iriniia are ROCK STARS! Chatting people up ALL DAY BOTH DAYS! We really spread out in our double corner booth. Thanks to everyone who gave their time and provided display materials - Talorc, Braun, Merewyn.. and everyone who visited and/or dressed up in garb and in any other way REPRESENTED! -Khevron Serious thanks also to the kiddos Tempest and her cousin Kyle. Without those two helping me do all the set-up on Friday, it wouldn't have looked anywhere near as good as it did! -Margery
Looking forward to next year!
We obtained 40 Names, addresses and e-mails!

A Tablet Weaving Loom on a Budget

By Gisla Ćeðikollr

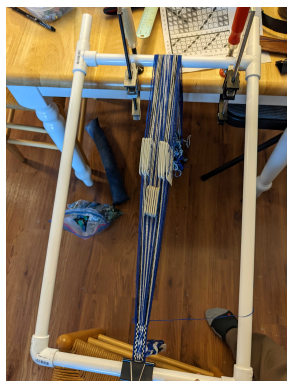

Tablet weaving is appropriate for a very wide variety of personas, and trim or a belt can really elevate a set of garb. However, the equipment requirements are fairly intimidating to the novice weaver; a standard inkle loom generally costs at least a hundred dollars plus shipping.

This tutorial aims to get you fully set up to weave for less than that!

These plans are for a warp weighted loom, which has a few advantages over an inkle. The biggest one is that you don't need to worry about building up twist while weaving an unbalanced pattern.

The second advantage is that you're not constrained by the max warp length of an inkle loom (I will admit that this is sometimes a disadvantage, I have gotten very bored by the unwise decision to warp up 10 yards of the same thing).

The other disadvantage is that a WWL is not very portable; an attempt to take work to an event or an A&S gathering is likely to require you to spend a bit of time putting your warp back in order before you can begin whereas an inkle room is much more ready to go. So with that laid out, let's go hit the box stores!

A Tablet Weaving Loom on a Budget

Gisla Ćeðikollr, Part 2

Shopping List

From a hardware store:

6' 1/2" diameter schedule 40 PVC (this is the white pipe, the thinnest you can find. They come in 2' or 10' increments, three of the two footers is all you need)
2 1/2-in x 1/2-in x 1/2-in dia 90-Degree Tee PVC Fitting (two T junctions that fit your pipe)
2 1/2-in x 1/2-in dia 90-Degree Slip Elbow PVC Fitting (two elbow junctions that fit your pipe)
2 6" quick release bar clamps (you might have these in your garage already, though)

From an office supply store:

1/4" capacity binder clips, you'll need as many as you plan on having cards

Possibly also a single very large clip, but maybe this one is from the office supply cabinet

From a sporting goods store:

3 oz lead fishing weights, ideally in a not-pointy shape. You'll need as many as you plan on having cards. As of spring '22, these cost a little over a dollar each, but there are patterns that can be done on nine cards so you don't need TOO many.

From a craft store or maybe your stash:

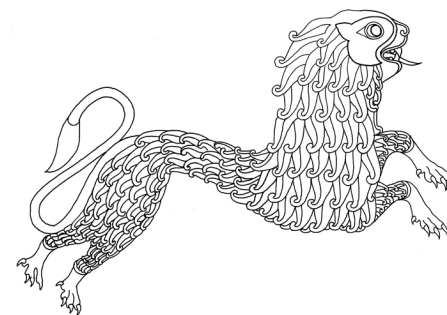

Maybe Crochet Thread in size 10 in two or more colors you like, maybe yarn from your stash!

Maybe Amazon, maybe homemade:

Tablets - 2" square tablets either purchased or made from cardboard or thin plastic sheet.

Miscellaneous stuff that's probably in your house:

Saw, glue, nail polish or paint, two 6" quick release bar clamps.

A Tablet Weaving Loom on a Budget

Gisla Ćeðikollr, Part 3

Construction

Saw one of the two foot lengths into half, and then saw off three inches of each of the other lengths.

Now that you have two 12" lengths, two 21" lengths and two 3" lengths, assemble them as shown (this photo also explains the use of bar clamps). Some glue will be required in every joint; I used hot glue so that I could use it immediately but pretty much anything will work.

If you would prefer your loom to look more unobtrusive at an event, nail polish remover will get rid of the printed on text, and then an artistic smear of brown shoe polish does a surprisingly good job at replicating wood grain.

Okay, that's the loom part of "warp weighted loom", so now on to the weights!

If you trust yourself to not chew on your fingers while working on weaving, you can skip the paint step and also I envy you. I took the time to coat most of the surface of my weights with nail polish and then once dried, removed one set of the wires from a binder clip, threaded it through the weight and then reattached it.

A Tablet Weaving Loom on a Budget

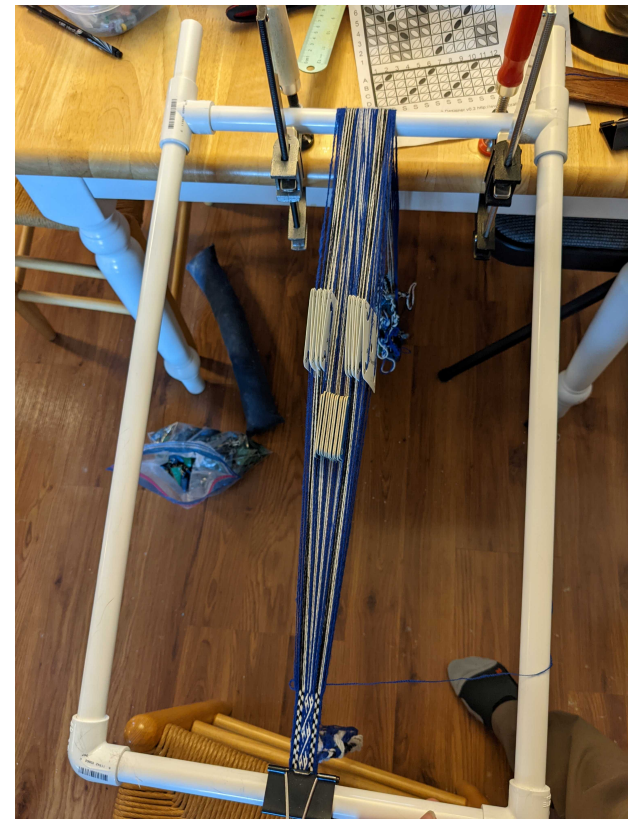

Gisla Ćeðikollr, Part 4

Warping

By setting your bar clamps a fair distance away and bar-portion-up, you can use them as an impromptu warping board. I condense the excess warp by turning each tablet's worth of cards into a single crochet chain, and then attach the weighted binder clip to the loop at the top.

Weaving!

There are a torrent of Youtube videos, Facebook groups and other tutorials for getting started with weaving and now that you have a loom you're ready to start exploring them!

HAMLET, PRINCE OF DENMARK

Bob ibn Briggs

Historical Drive-In Movie Critic

"We watch 'em so you don't have to."

So, continuing our series of movie reviews of the latest additions to my "Shakespeare Shelf" at home, we come to this one – yet another version of one of William Shakespeare's most popular plays. To add insult to injury, in looking on-line for the full cast list, I found at least three other versions that I do not already own (and which have now been added to my Amazon wish list) and one that I would like to own but cannot find to purchase. (This last, being a film from Denmark, is probably not available in the NTSC format, so I wouldn't be able to watch it even if I had it, without buying an "all-regions" DVD or Blu-Ray player. Or flying it to Europe and to watch it there which, although tempting, probably does not have the best cost-to-benefit ratio. Just sayin'.) Anyway, this month's movie was obtained as one in a boxed set of the plays of William Shakespeare done in the late 1970s and early 1980s by the BBC ("the Beeb") and Time-Life Books, originally made for television, so you just know right off the bat that it's going to be a mix of high standards for actors, costuming, and fidelity to the original text, coupled with pretty obvious attempts to keep production costs down. Let's see how well they did with that balancing act as this month, Da'ud Bob reviews for you the 1980 production of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark.

Starring Derek Jacobi (just four years after his tour-de-force in I, Claudius) in the title role, with Patrick Stewart as Claudius (a role he would reprise in 2009 to David Tennant's Hamlet; funnily enough, Derek Jacobi would play Claudius in Kenneth Branagh's 1996 Hamlet), Claire Bloom as Gertrude, Eric Porter as Polonius, Lalla Ward as Ophelia, David Robb as Laertes, Patrick Allen as the Ghost of Hamlet's Father, Robert Swann as Horatio, Jonathan Hyde as Rosenkrantz, Geoffrey Bateman as Guildenstern, and Emrys James as the First Player, you should know the plot of this one from all of the other productions of this play that I have reviewed thus far.

In brief, Hamlet comes home from university to find his uncle married to his mother, and his father's ghost haunting the battlements and scaring the watch. Then his father's ghost directs him to seek revenge on his uncle for "murder most foul."

Good points: Once again, it's Shakespeare's words. (Interesting fact: Shakespeare's works contain first-ever recordings of 2,035 English words, including critical, frugal, excellent, barefaced, assassination, and countless. [Source: FactRetriever.com]) Much of the armor. Much of the costuming, which mostly come from the time of Shakespeare. The fire-basket. Polonius is as verbose as ever. Queen Gertrude's four-poster bed and its trappings. The banners. The table tomb. The sword fighting choreography is better than usual.

Bad points: The Ghost's ridiculously long cape. I have my doubts about Hamlet's hose and codpiece. Some of the heraldic banners have questionable "heraldry" on them. Young Fortinbras' armor.

Zero breasts. ½ gallon of blood. Five dead bodies. Sword fu. Dagger fu. Poison fu. Fisticuffs. Expectorations fu. Hamlet rolls. Skulls roll. Hamlet and Laertes roll. King Claudius rolls. Gratuitous fog. Gratuitous fire breather. Gratuitous drum. Gratuitous application of rouge. Academy Award nomination to Derek Jacobi for his interesting take on Hamlet's soliloquy, and for showing throughout the play his wide range as an actor: manic; melancholy; angry (although his anger seems to me a little overdone at times); hurt; loud; soft. A mere 27 on the Vomit Meter. 3½ Stars. Da'ud Bob says, "It's really weird to see Patrick Stewart – who teased co-star Lalla Ward because at the time of this movie, she was appearing in Doctor Who. Stewart told her he wouldn't be caught dead doing science fiction – in a beard with a nearly full head of hair. All in all, it's a well above average production of Hamlet. Check it out!"

Winter's Gate Arts and Sciences

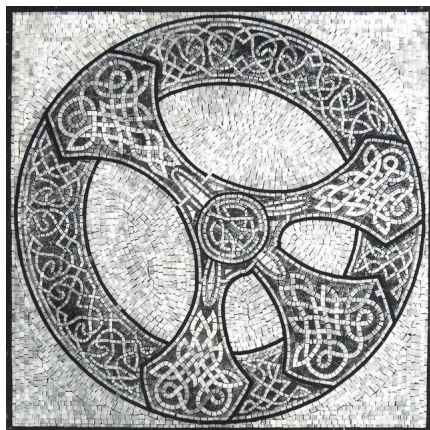

Greetings to the populous of Winter's Gate. It's Fearghus here, your brand-new A & S officer. I just want to say a quick hello and let you know I am excited to serve in this capacity. Being new to this position I will be looking to the populace for some ideas as to see the types of things you would like to get involved in, along with some things I would like to try.

I encourage you all to participate, Winter's Gate has many amazing and skilled people, and I would be honored to help you let the rest of the Principality and Kingdom know how awesome you all are and show everyone your skills. With Fighter practices starting up again we can get together to do the arts while the others whack each other with sticks.

Baroness Talorc held the first of what we hope will be many reoccurring A & S nights at her home and had a great turn out and I am told much fun was had. Please let me know if there are things, I can help you with in your pursuit in A & S. I will help where I can and seek to find others who can provide guidance where I cannot.

At our upcoming Changeover event the theme for A & S will be heraldry. I will post more information soon towards this end very soon.
